

4-star PG Antonio Pemberton transferring to Masters Academy International (Mass.)

Story by Andy Villamarzo • 1mo • 2 min read

Featured games in the NCAA BK

Final  UConn Hus... vs  Michigan W...

Rivals150 PG Antonio Pemberton (photo credit: Rivals' Jamie Shaw)
© On3

One of the top high school boys basketball players in the country out of the New England region is changing up schools for his senior season, according to a social media post via Instagram on Tuesday.

Antonio Pemberton, the No. 70 overall player in the latest 2027 Rivals150, announced that he’s leaving Brewster (NH) Academy and transferring to Masters Academy International (Mass.), where his former head coach Jason Smith is now at.

Never Mix Gelatin With Th...

Healthy Liv... · Sponsored

“After two incredible years at Brewster Academy, I’m grateful for everything that program has given me on and off the court. The coaches, teammates, and community helped shape me, push me, and prepare me for what’s next. Nothing but respect and appreciation. With that being said, I’m excited to announce that I will be transferring to Masters Academy International for my senior year to continue growing and competing at the highest level alongside my coach,” Pemberton said in the Instagram post.

This past season in Nike’s EYBL League league play, Pemberton was averaging 16.3 points and 4.8 assists on 42.4 percent from 3-point land.

Pemberton follows Smith, who over the course of 26 years coaching led Brewster Academy to seven national prep titles and totaled more than 700 career victories. Smith now heads to a Masters Academy International program that’s being dubbed by many as the “IMG Academy of the north.”

Geese Tickets 2026

GoTickets · Sponsored

In Antonio Pemberton's words

"I'm a high-energy guy, trying to get my teammates open to score. I'm a three-level scorer. I've been training a lot, and I see that in my game. Just staying in the gym with my dad, and having fun with it, getting my confidence back." – Pemberton to Rivals' Jamie Shaw

How to Follow Massachusetts High School Boys Basketball

For Massachusetts high school boys basketball fans looking to keep up with scores around the nation, staying updated on the action is now easier than ever with the Rivals High School Scoreboard. This comprehensive resource provides real-time updates and final scores from across the Bay State, ensuring you never miss a moment of the high school hoops action throughout the season. From nail-biting finishes to dominant performances, the Rivals High School Scoreboard is your one-stop destination for tracking all the hardwood excitement across the state.